

Forest Fellow

Forest Fellow produces refined, heavy-boned sporthorse types with substance, presence, elegance, clean throats and good-looking heads. His offspring are in demand and they have sold throughout North America. His babies can be found in halter classes, the dressage and hunter rings, eventing, and just plain giving pleasure to weekend riders, both English and western.

Forest Fellow rides both western and English, and drives. He excelled in his in-hand show career as a youngster until his owner quit showing horses. He likes to work and he likes to jump. Fellow is smart, gentle and a good babysitter for our sucklings when they are weaned.
